Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 20 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Another largely fine and sunny day, feeling hot.

Today:
Any early fog soon clearing, giving a mostly fine and dry day with plenty of sunshine. Some clouds bubbling up during the afternoon in the extreme east, which may generate an isolated and possibly thundery shower. Another hot day. Maximum temperature 32 deg C (90 deg F).

Tonight:
Any daytime showers and clouds clearing during the evening, to leave a dry night with mainly clear skies. Patchy fog is possible for prone areas. Another warm night. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Wednesday:
Any morning fog soon clearing, leaving another hot and mainly dry day with plenty of sunshine. Some fair-weather clouds and the odd, very isolated shower may develop through the afternoon. Maximum temperature 32 deg C (90 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Fine and largely dry on Thursday and Friday morning with sunny spells and some isolated showers. Rain, perhaps thundery arriving later Friday into Saturday. Becoming less hot.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.